

Write to Heal Workshops

An Eight-Week Series

Hope for every journey

How can writing help heal?

Writing has been shown to help reduce stress, improve mental health, and foster emotional healing.

About the Workshop

This free online writing workshop offers cancer patients and survivors an opportunity to explore the healing power of expressive writing. Through writing and sharing your experiences, you'll reconnect with your voice and gain emotional release as part of a supportive community. Writing can't cure, but it can heal—scientific studies show it helps with mental, emotional, and physical health.

Eight-Week Series Starts

Wednesday, August 13, 2025 from 3:00 PM – 5:00 PM (MT)

8 Wednesdays: August 13, 20, 27, September 3, 10, 17, 24
October 1

Location: Online via Zoom. Registration required.
